RTW Expands Partnership with AMISYS Across Southeast Europe

AMISYS appointed exclusive RTW distributor for Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro and North Macedonia

Cologne, Germany, October 1, 2026 - RTW, a leading provider of professional audio metering and monitoring solutions, today announces the expansion of its partnership with AMISYS, appointing the Belgrade-based company as its exclusive distributor for Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro and North Macedonia, effective October 1, 2026.

AMISYS has represented RTW as a reseller in Serbia for several years, building experience with RTW's solutions and establishing relationships with customers in the region. Under the new agreement, AMISYS will expand its activities to cover five markets, taking responsibility for sales, distribution, and market development of RTW's professional audio metering and monitoring solutions throughout the territory.

"We are very pleased to take the next step in our relationship with AMISYS," says Carl Kurlanda, Head of international sales at RTW. "They already know our products, our technology, and the requirements of professional broadcast and audio customers. Expanding the partnership gives customers across the region easier access to local expertise, demonstrations, technical support, and the complete RTW product portfolio."

As part of the expanded partnership, AMISYS will provide local sales and first-level technical support as well as product training and demonstrations. The company will maintain demonstration systems for RTW's latest solutions, including TouchControl 5, TouchMonitor 5 and TMxCore.

"We look forward to expanding our cooperation with RTW and bringing its metering and monitoring solutions to even more broadcasters, production facilities, and professional audio customers across the region", says Dragan Vuletic, Managing Director at AMISYS.

The appointment strengthens RTW's presence in Southeast Europe while providing customers with a dedicated regional partner offering local expertise and direct access to RTW's portfolio of professional audio metering, monitoring, and control solutions.

The new distribution agreement is effective from October 1, 2026.
