RTW Appoints Leading Technologies as Exclusive Distributor for Italy, San Marino and Vatican City

Cologne, Germany, November 1, 2026 - RTW has appointed Leading Technologies as its exclusive distributor for Italy, San Marino and Vatican City, effective November 1, 2026.

The Monza-based company will handle sales, distribution and market development, providing local product demonstrations, training and first-level technical support. Demonstration systems will include TouchControl 5, TouchMonitor 5 and TMxCore.

“We are pleased to welcome Leading Technologies as our distribution partner,” says Carl Kurlanda, Head of International Sales at RTW. “This partnership gives customers across the territory easier access to our solutions, backed by local expertise and support.”

“We look forward to bringing RTW’s metering and monitoring solutions to our customers,” says Marco Porro, CEO of Leading Technologies. “Local demonstrations and technical support will help them choose and use the right tools for their projects.”

The appointment strengthens RTW’s presence in the region and provides broadcast and professional audio customers with a dedicated local partner.
